

I have had my name and number on the "no call" list since it's inception and have enjoyed not being harrassed each evening with numerous telemarketers. To make any changes to the regulations in order to accomodate any business would open the flood gates for other companies to make themselves "exempt" to the rules. This would be a big step back for all consumers. Please don't make allowances for anyone. Keep the NO CALL rules intact!